Networking "Live" and in person

Recently we have been talking about social networking. Social media is a marvelous way to build your network of contacts, but is it the only networking you do? To truly make your job search effective, you need to use face-to-face networking as well. Let's review some of the key components to Networking "Live".

Quote of the Day

I know the price of success: dedication, hardwork, and an unremitting devotion to the things you want to see happen. - Frank Lloyd Wright

Would Grandma approve?

How appropriate is your message?

When you are looking for a new job, it is essential to present a professional appearance. To many individuals, this means the clothing that you wear, how many accessories you add to your outfits, whether you stand up straight or slouch in your seat while waiting to speak with your interviewer. But let's discuss a few of the items, that are just as important but often overlooked, to which you need to pay attention. Would you make your grandma proud? Read more

Employment & Education (KCDEE) administers Workforce Investment Act (WIA) Title 1B/Trade Adjustment Assistance Act services for local Workforce Investment Area 5, and provides the tools that enhance your ability to find a new career for adults, dislocated workers and youth in Kane, DeKalb, and Kendall counties in Illinois.

Tax Credits - Good for Your Business & Your Community

Businesses are in the business of staying in business. Sometimes it is challenging to do great things for the community and still maintain a healthy bottom line. However, there are some tax credits and grants which can help your business do both. One positive outcome of current economic events is a visible shift away from self-absorption. The mindset of "what is in it for me" seems to be melding into "what is in it for the community." It is heartening to see increased dialogue and legislation which encourages and enables contributions to the greater good. Read More

Net Work

The Networking Wisdom of Dale Carnegie in Five Easy Bullet Points.

- Smile: This is such a simple, basic rule, yet people just don't think about it.
- Ask a question: Joining a group engaged in conversation can be awkward. The best way to do so is to pose a question to the group after getting the gist of the conversation.
- Listen: If you can get people to discuss their experiences and opinions-and listen with sincere interest-you can have a great conversation with someone without having to say much at all.
- Business cards: Always have them handy. They're an effective way for you to leave your name behind so that people remember who you are.
- Say the person's name: People like to hear their own name. Doing so makes the other person feel more comfortable, like you really know him and he knows you.

The value of networking is immeasurable.
